Workshops are held in Library Classroom 7216 except as noted.

MLA Formatting and Citations: 9/10 at 1:00PM and 9/12 at 6:00PM
Can you tell your header from your footer? This workshop will set you straight on how your papers ought to look as well as how to quote outside sources.

APA Formatting and Citations: 9/17 at 6:00PM and 9/18 at 1:00PM
Attention all Nursing and Science majors: If you need help with running headers, cover pages, abstracts, and citing outside sources, then this workshop is for you!

The Five Part Essay: 9/24 at 1:00PM and 9/27 at 6:00PM
This workshop will shake you out of your five-paragraph rut and have you thinking about your paper’s organization in a whole new way.

Introductions and Conclusions: 10/1 at 1:00PM in Library Study Room 1 and 10/3 at 6:00PM in Library Think Tank
Do you struggle with grabbing the reader’s attention and answering the “so what” question? This workshop will help you hook your readers and leave them with something to think about.

Rhetorical Analysis: 10/8 at 1:00PM and 10/11 at 6:00PM
This workshop explains the steps necessary to understanding an argument’s effectiveness by considering the author’s use of evidence, reasoning, and emotional appeal. Learn how to write a rhetorical analysis that would make Aristotle proud!

Transitions: 10/15 at 1:00PM and 10/18 at 6:00PM
How do you move from one idea to the next in your writing? Does your reader feel left behind at times? Come learn how key words and phrases can help your paper flow.

Incorporating Sources: 10/22 at 1:00PM and 10/25 at 6:00PM
Do your dropped quotes leave readers hanging? Are your paraphrases really plagiarisms? Learn how to introduce properly incorporate material from sources into your writing.

Commas and Other Pesky Punctuation: 10/29 at 1:00PM and 10/31 at 6:00PM
Commas, colons, and semicolons, oh my! Our consultant will explain each of these pesky punctuation marks and how to use them properly in your writing.

Sentence Structure: 11/6 at 1:00PM and 11/8 at 6:00PM
Do you have (sentence) boundary issues? Learn how identify and correct fragments, run-ons, and spliced sentences.

Sentence Variety: 11/12 at 1:00PM and 11/15 at 6:00PM
My writing is repetitive. It sounds robotic. It needs some help. I would like to change it. If this sounds like you, then come learn how to add some variety to those robotic repetitions.
